

ILLEGAL MARRIAGES

Court Ruling May Effect Five Hundred Couples.

Winston-Salem, N. C., May 19.—If a ruling made today by Judge Webb of the Superior Court, it will mean that no less than 500 illegal marriage licenses have been issued in Forsythe during the past twenty years.

Judge Webb holds that there has not been any legislative act empowering a deputy register of deeds to issue marriage papers and administer oaths in this county and for that reason he quashed a perjury indictment against a man for swearing falsely regarding the age of a girl for whose marriage to him a license was issued by a former deputy register of deeds.

CLAYTON FISHING PARTY RETURNS.

Messrs. O. B. Pruitt, W. E. Houston, F. P. Watkins and C. E. Watson of Clayton, who have been on a fishing trip to Panama City, returned this afternoon and left on the 1:40 Coast Line train for their homes. They report quite a pleasant time with plenty of fish. They were out yesterday afternoon in a launch when the launch got stuck on a mud bank. A severe wind storm came up and made them all think of their life insurance policies. They rode through the squall all right but had to leave the launch and make their way back to Panama in a skiff, not getting in until ten o'clock at night.

THE MINSTREL

The boys surprised their friends last night. We were looking for a fairly good show, but, honestly, the minstrel was something better than we expected. Even the Orchestra was a surprise, their opening numbers, Blue Feather and A Monkey Honeyman, bringing a smile of pleasure to every face in the house. From the opening chorus to the dress parade drill of Recruiting Officer Wiggins' company there was no time for a yawn. End Men Thrasher, M. Garner, Farmer and S. Garner kept everybody in a good humor with their spicy jokes and catchy songs. Bart Thrasher ought to have been a lawyer, his speech last night would have cleared Captain Hains or the Couper. The Quartette, composed of Messrs. Calvin, Harrison, Garner and Bailey, received a warm welcome when they sang "Where The Sweet Kentucky Flows." Mr. Rapport was at his best in his Hebrew impersonations, his song, "I'm Awfully Strong For You," winning sincere applause.

There were a number of catchy songs which won the applause of the audience, but "Blue Feather," sung by Mr. Wiggins, and "Gypsy Love Song" from "The Fortune Teller," sung by Mr. Bailey, received a warmer appreciation than any other numbers on the programme. The boys made quite a hit with their song "Rose Time Rosie." The accompanying dance was very clever and won unstinted applause.

The sketch, "The Recruiting Office," was a hearty laugh from beginning to end. Recruiting Officer Wiggins has the best graft game we have seen in some time and the dress parade of his recruits would have ended the Turkish uprising in about thirty minutes.

The orchestra deserves the highest praise for their work last night. If there is anything that can be done to encourage such organizations as this in Dothan, let's do it.

There may have been some kick on the price of admission the boys charged, but Sheriff Butler could not find a kick on the show with the best search warrant the law allows.

EGG WITHIN AN EGG

Chester Newton is a sort of a fancy chicken fancier and has some Plymouths that look like the true descendants.

On gathering in the eggs yesterday evening it was discovered that one nest had an egg in it as big as a goose egg. The skin, or outer surface of the egg was soft and rubberlike, but on the inside it was a well grown, fully developed egg, with a hard shell on it. It looked like the old hen started out to lay an omelet and changed it to an apple dumpling.

The egg can be seen at Mr. Newton's store.

Mrs. W. K. Chambers, of Haleburt, is in the city visiting relatives.

Mr. H. B. Steagall of Ozark, Mr. B. O. Peterson and Dr. A. S. Steagall of Abbeville, and Mr. T. M. Espy returned this afternoon from Fountain, Fla., where they have been on a big fox hunt. They had a fine time, carried twenty one dogs and caught four fox.

CAREER OF ROGERS SUDDENLY ENDED

Prominent Standard Oil Man Dies Suddenly at His Home in New York.

New York, May 19.—H. H. Rogers, the Standard Oil capitalist died at his house, No. 3 East 78th street about 7 o'clock this morning. He arose about 6 and about half past six he began to feel ill, complaining of numbness and nausea. Before anything could be done he sank and died. He went on Friday last to his country place at Fairhaven, Mass., and returned yesterday.

Mr. Rogers was for many years one of the most prominent financiers of the country. He took a leading part in all of the enterprises undertaken by the Standard Oil company group of capitalists, was vice president of the Standard Oil Company, and was the active spirit of the organization of the Amalgamated Copper company, of which he was president, up to the time of his death.

He had interests in a number of large railways serving as a member of the board of directors of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and the Union Pacific.

The news of the death came as a surprise to Wall street. Mr. Rogers was at the office of the Standard Oil company yesterday and appeared to be in good spirits.

His health has been failing somewhat for several years and he had curtailed his financial operations to some extent on that account, but he continued to perform the duties of vice-president of the Standard Oil company.

The death of Mr. Rogers follows close on the completion of the great railway project to the accomplishment of which the energies of his later years, his genius for organization and a very considerable portion of his private fortune was devoted. This was the building of the Virginia railway, a line which opened up a rich bituminous coal country in West Virginia, extending 443 miles from Deepwater, W. Va., to a tidewater terminal at Sewell's Point, Virginia.

This road was distinctly an individual undertaking of Mr. Rogers and he personally bore the greater part of the cost of its construction, which has been estimated at $40,000,000. Mr. Rogers had embarked on his venturesome career prior to the financial panic of 1907 which checked similar undertakings by some of the other large railroad companies of this country, but the work of building this line went on to its finish mainly because of the energy and faith which Mr. Rogers applied to the achievement of his purpose.

Mrs. J. T. Trawick was quite sick last night, but is reported better today.

FIRE AT FLORALA

SAWMILL COMPANY LOSS IS $50,000

Big Lumber Shed and Three Dry Kilns Are Destroyed By Flames.

Pensacola, May 19.—A special from Florala, Ala., says that three large dry kilns and a big shed filled with lumber, of the Florala Sawmill Company, were destroyed by fire late this afternoon, entailing a loss of $50,000, partly covered by insurance.

The fire raged for four hours and the main mill and planing mill had a narrow escape from burning.

CHURCH BURNED.

News comes to town that Rehoboth church, located several miles south of town, was burned down night before last. It is thought that it was set on fire by some one. It was one of the best country church buildings in the county.

SEVERE STORM

Pensacola, Fla., May 19.—It is known that three lives were lost as the result of a very severe storm which struck here at noon today, the wind attaining a velocity of sixty miles an hour and whipping the bay into a seething mass. Eight miles up the bay a schooner was capsized. Two white men, Capt. Williams and a man known as Jack, launched a small boat, which was swamped and the men drowned. Israel Brown a negro was rescued while clinging to the overturned schooner.

The storm came up without warning.

Mrs. W. F. McClellan and Mrs. C. E. Harman went to Panama City this afternoon. They will return tomorrow evening with the picnic crowd.

Mr. J. W. Goff went to Ozark today.

Mr. Henry Smith of Hartford was here today.

The royal road to wealth needs constant working.

The weather man called for rain three days before it did any good.

One can never see the beauties of the valley till he climbs to the top of the hill.

Houston is the youngest county in Alabama, but it has some mighty old ways.

It is an old saying that the man who talks much is bound to say many things that are not true.

It is a dull night in Dothan when there's nothing doing in the way of amusement, to say nothing of the days.

Captain Hains is hitting the dope, and Mrs. Anis is going to hit the stage. No telling what misfortunes may bring.

The dust on the streets when it's dry, and the mud on them when it rains, will be done away with when those bonds are sold and the paving is finished.

ASK THE MOTHER.

Ask the mother who holds in her arms her boy, what her ideal is concerning him and she will tell you that she desires that his heart may be so pure that it could be laid upon a pillow and not leave a stain; that his ambition may be so holy that it could be whispered in an angel's ear; and that his life may be so clean that his mother, his sister, his wife, his child could read a record of its every thought and act without a blush. But ask her if she will require this perfection in her son before she showers her love upon him, and she will answer "no." She will tell you that she will make him as good as she can, that she will follow his footsteps with a daily prayer; that in what ever land he wanders her blessing will abide with him; and that when he dies she'll hope, hope yet hope that the world will be better that he has lived.—W. J. Bryan in an address entitled "Man."

PILLOWS AND SLEEPING.

"Pillows are little more than a find, and a rather harmful one at that," said a Germantown doctor. "They should really only be used by those who sleep on their sides, as they are injurious to others. When you sleep on your side your shoulders prevent your head from lying level on the bed, and pillows are useful to raise the head to this level. The natural and most beautiful position for the ordinary person in sleeping is for one's head to be kept perfectly even, just as it would be standing up. Now, for the one who lies on his back while sleeping no pillow is needed to keep the head in this position, and yet 90 per cent of the persons who sleep on their backs use pillows, while those who sleep on their sides use far more pillow than is necessary. People get used to having their heads and shoulders propped high up, and imagine they could not sleep any other way, but, as a matter of fact, if they would try sleeping with little or no pillow they would not only find that they would feel better in the morning, but actually be more comfortable in bed and sleep much sounder throughout the night"—Philadelphia Record

THIS IS THE NIGHT.

The weather looks good, and everybody seems in the right humor to go down tonight and see how the suit will come off. Some sorely want to see who the parties are; others want to hear the love letters read; others want to hear the pleadings of the lawyers; others still, want to hear the judge's charge, while others are coming to stay a late hour just to see the jury do its duty. Court will be called promptly on the announcement of the defense and plaintiff's willingness to begin. The jury may remain out all night, but the spectators are not required to sit through the night waiting for the verdict. If there's anything in the world that our people do enjoy it is witnessing a court proceedings.

LOVE FOR HIS ## HOME TOWN.

One of the striking characteristics of Henry H. Rogers, whose death occurred today, was his love for his home town. He was born in Fairhaven, Mass. and began his business career in this place as a clerk in a grocery store. When his genius became recognized by the Standard Oil company and he left Fairhaven to be some eventually one of the most commanding figures in the world of finance, he did not forget the place of his nativity nor the people with whom he was associated before his rise to fame. As his wealth increased his gifts to his home town multiplied, reaching their climax when he presented the municipality with an up-to-date waterworks plant. His gifts to Fairhaven, in addition to this plant, include two schools, a town hall, a library, a Masonic building, a memorial church and a number of less pretentious structures. The church and library were erected in memory of his mother and are beautiful and costly structures. The total value of his gifts to Fairhaven exceed two million dollars.—Birmingham News.

"Nerves" what they are where they and what they do.

Nerves are telephone wires with central stations, here in the country (the Body) where they live. The country they reside in is extensive, covering the entire surface of taking in the seas and lakes. These bodies should be of care, as in them are placed the organs, and function of life. Here, too, the nerves work daily. Sometimes the body is asleep, they do not cease to send messages. The emotions of pleasure to others, extend greetings of mirth. They also show forth wrath, and when threatened, nations have been deluged in blood through their nature they bring into their home untold information, it is made a fit receptacle by work, care and training.

The Dothan Variety Works has gone to some considerable expense in completing a new plant to make sash doors and laying in a supply of material. They are putting in many sash doors in the houses in Dothan, where the work is proving very satisfactory. They send a man up to figure on the job, take the measurements of the openings, and then make the sashes to fit them. This is a business that ought to do well in Dothan, where we have many flies, and some mosquitoes, all the year most.

The thing to do is to pick out your man, give him a few turns about over the country, and show him how simple everything works. He will do the rest. It all depends upon how well you pick your man.

In the Breach of Promise suit at the court house tonight it is rumored that the Plaintiff's mother will absolutely refuse to tell her (Plaintiff's) age. This is important evidence and the jury will have to have it to assist them in reaching a verdict. It is hoped that the attorneys will advise the mother against this stand, as the refusal to answer will bring from the Court either a fine or a sentence to jail and either would be an unheard of thing in a Houston County court.

WOMEN and SOCIETY

Items of Interest to Women

Miss Addams and Her Work At Hull House.

It has been said that Miss Jane Addams is the best known woman in the world. Certain it is that she is widely loved and has the grateful recognition and following of everyone interested in modern settlement work.

The power back of the wonderful usefulness of Hull House lies in the personality and unselfish service of Miss Addams and her associate, Miss Starr. There has been no less substantial and necessary than that of Miss Addams, the latter has become more prominent in the eyes of the public. Miss Addams is an earnest student of social conditions at home and abroad. She has written strongly on the most vital questions of the century. A few years ago she visited Tolstoi, prompted by her admiration of his authorship, and his unique position in modern thought and progress. Her lecture on Tolstoi shows a wonderful grasp of the character and ideas of the man.

In appearance, Miss Addams is entirely womanly and absolutely free from the blight of self-consciousness. There is a brief but suitable tribute to her character in a recent novel, "The Second Generation," written by her nephew, James Weber Linn, and dedicated to "J. A.," which by the way, has received much favorable comment in literary circles. Passing notice is given to a woman soliciting contributions for a charitable fund, who refuses a large amount of money unworthily offered.

The following incident shows her close relations and sympathy with the people among whom she lives. A little child playing upon a roof had fallen and been killed while its mother was at work. At an evening engagement Miss Addams' eyes were full of tears and she was unable to conceal her sadness as she mentioned that the child had formerly been an inmate of the Hull House nursery and that its mother had said to her that she should have given anything for the privilege of staying away from work one day to hold the child in her arms.—From article by Martha Reid Robinson.

The Art Exhibit.

There is nothing more conducive to a moral uplift to a people, nor more refining in its influences upon old and young than to look upon a beautiful picture. Children will become more refined when taught from infancy to admire the beautiful and the pure in art, then they will naturally turn away from anything coarse and common. Place before a child the work of the great Masters, tell him the story connected with the beautiful pictures and why they were painted; get him interested, not only in the pictures themselves, but in the artist, by relating incidents of the artist's life, and you will do a deed whose influence for good will be handed down to posterity. No child so tutored will care for the base and low, either in art or literature. At the art exhibit which is being conducted under the auspices of the city schools are pictures of the great masters that every person in Dothan should step in and view. No one is too old, no one is too young but that they will feel they are fortunate to have this great opportunity of seeing pictures famous the world over, brought to their very doors.
